Subject: Trees in DTLA

Hi Mark,

We were chatting about trees in South Park at our staff meeting last week, and I was remembering the tree giveaways that AD51 used to do. If I remember correctly, those were always for private residences. Do you know anything about those events, like where the trees came from or if this kind of event could be used to increase the number of trees in the public realm?

Also, drinks soon? Congrats on getting through the last several weeks 😊
